Leslie Geissler Munger (Republican) was sworn in as Illinois' comptroller on January 12, 2015. Comptroller Munger is a native Illinoisan, earning her bachelor's degree from the University of Illinois and her master's degree from the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University.

Prior to becoming comptroller, Munger worked as a brand management business executive with Unilever HPC/Helene Curtis, where she led the $800 million U.S. Hair Care business and Procter & Gamble by managing large budgets, solving difficult business problems and delivering results. Early in her career, Munger also was in charge of recruiting at McKinsey and Company, Inc.

She has been an active community volunteer and leader for the Riverside Foundation, a not-for-profit residential facility for developmentally disabled adults in Lincolnshire, where she was named Volunteer of the Year in 2013.

Munger also served on the School District 103 Foundation Board for seven years and spent three of those years as president. The foundation raised money for education enhancements in the school.

She is a member of the University of Illinois Student Affairs Advisory Council. In 2004, Leslie was named Lincolnshire's Citizen of the Year.

Munger and her husband, John, live in Lincolnshire and have two adult sons, Tom and Andy.

Office of the Comptroller

The comptroller is the chief fiscal control officer for Illinois government, charged with maintaining the state's central fiscal accounts and ordering payments into and out of the appropriate funds. To fulfill these duties, the comptroller has established accounting standards for use by all state agencies. Maintaining the official records regarding state government's fiscal affairs, the comptroller serves as a clearinghouse for financial information.
